WELL POSTED.

A California Doctor With Forty Years' Experience.

"In my forty years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people."

"I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use."

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts, and Postum in place of coffee, when giving my patients instructions as to diet, for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone."

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order."

"In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am almost certain to have trouble with my stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape-Nuts the most scientific food in the world. "There's a reason."

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM
By William Pitt

Use only dairy cows.

Dock the lambs early.

Don't be slow about spraying.

Chickens devour many insects.

Use caution with cottonseed meal.

Move the brood coops every two or three days.

It is always best to have a system, and stick to it.

Blood tells with sheep as well as with everything else.

Persistency is one of the great traits of the best dairy cow.

One of the worst evils in the orchard is the so-called pear "blight."

A milk house adds very much in the proper care of milk and milk utensils.

Be sure the hogs, old and young, have plenty of pure, fresh water to drink.

The best kind of a garden club is a wire net fence to keep out the chickens.

For orchard spraying a three-eighths or half-inch hose is best, and in lengths of fifty feet.

The grape is one of the surest of crops, as after the third year a generous crop may be expected.

Ten acre fruit growers and egg producers who adhere to modern methods are making a success.

It will not be necessary for any corn-belt farmer to go many miles to see what a silo is like next winter.

Don't get the idea that you cannot obtain satisfactory results from spraying just because your neighbor failed.

The hen house that is whitewashed inside and has clean windows will be more healthful and attractive for the fowls.

The heifer calves from parents of long dairy inheritance are almost sure to equal or surpass their dams in productivity.

The sudden change from the warm stable to the night—and damp ground, might prove serious with some of the heavy milkers.

Successful dairying means that it is vital to steer clear of dry cows and indifferent producers. High priced feeds bring this home.

Many a case of chick disease might be traced to the chilling they so often get in transferring the hatch from the incubator to brooder.

The chief value of the manure spreader lies in its ability to put a thin coating over a large area, and thus produce maximum results.

The building of a silo is not a speculation by means of which you can get something out of nothing, but it is a good, sound business proposition.

When done spraying each day, run some clean water through the pump, to wash out the spray mixture and avoid corrosion of the working parts.

Ducks do not like whole grain, but prefer soft food. When winter approaches they may be fed twice a day, at night adding animal meal or cooked meat.

To get a good, select private egg trade, make it a rule to put eggs in the package that are not only strictly fresh but which were made from pure, sweet food.

The person who raises good stock need have no fear about prices. First class fowls always bring good prices, no matter how great the surplus of ordinary stock is.

If the dairymen could come into direct contact with the people who eat their butter there would be less need of discussing the subject of making a better grade of butter.

Test the spray hose several days before needed for spraying. Try it with the highest pressure you will use. If it bursts easily or leaks, make the needed repairs in it, or get a new one. It will save delays at a critical time.

Soaking cabbage seed in a solution of one ounce of formalin to two and one-half gallons of water for twenty minutes will be a good start against cabbage rot. Soil and manures free from black rot germs will also be necessary.

Fresh eggs hatch best.

Keep the calf pen clean.

Give the turkeys free range.

Sow for a succession in crops.

Little chicks enjoy green feed.

Kindness is well repaid in the dairy.

Go slow with corn to the brood sows and young pigs.

Dock the lambs early. There is less shock and no danger.

Do not sell a pig until it is in best condition, or you will lose.

Sows that are to produce fall litters should be bred in May, if possible.

The wise sheep owner will never allow a setback in the growth of the lambs.

Collar bolts need the attention of a veterinarian who can easily remove the cause.

To attain the greatest success in dairying, it is necessary to have dairy-bred cows.

Cows are not always to blame for being unprofitable. Often the fault is nearer home.

Hens that have been crowded for winter eggs should have no place with the breeders.

The hens find considerable animal food in the bugs and worms that are beginning to appear.

Be careful how you breed your colts and don't be guilty of flooding the market with misfits.

Some cows are like some people, notional, have to be humored to get them to do their best.

Some cows are so persistent in their milking habits that it is dangerous to force them dry.

The successful dairymen endeavors to raise as much of the feed needed as possible on his own farm.

The smoother the perches the more easily they can be kept free from vermin. And have them movable.

Grasshoppers sometimes inflict injury on the young trees by eating the tender bark on the small limbs.

As soon as scouping begins, give the calf a teaspoonful of ground cloves. One dose is usually sufficient.

The sooner a hen can be turned loose with her small chicks the better after they are able to run and pick a little.

Spray your trees whether they have a crop or not. Spraying in off years is just as important as in years of heavy crops.

Calves at the age of three or four months will consume some silage if care is taken to pick out the leafy portions for them.

Many small chicks are counted among these lost because they are allowed to follow the mother through the dew-covered grass.

Make sure of one thing—if vigor is not in the stock that produced the eggs, the chicks will not live and thrive as they should.

Whether eggs are in incubators or under hens it will be well to wet them with water that feels warm to the hand, on the nineteenth day.

As a rule late seeding should be deep, in order to strike moisture, and thus start the plant out once on its handicap race against the season.

The careful farmer who gives his personal attention to the making and feeding of silage and is not satisfied with the result is yet to be heard from.

The neglect to keep brooders clean, and to provide clean litter for chicks to scratch in, is responsible for considerable mortality among baby chicks.

A sack of cement and three or four times as much sand will make an everlasting base for the separator, and it lengthens the life of the machine, too.

Market the butter often. The fresher it is the more it will appeal to your customers and the surer you are of getting from 40 to 50 cents a pound for all that you make.

Plan and breed now for early calves next spring. They're the ones that bring in the money, while their dams are producers of dairy products at a season when they reach the top in quality and price.

There may be certain lines of farming in which it is difficult to keep a definite account of the cost and profit, but dairying is not one of these. There is no excuse for ignorance on the part of the dairy farmer.

It requires some degree of courage to thin out lettuce, radishes, beets, etc., when the plants look so sturdy, but older plants and larger roots require more soil, and unless they have it, they will be poorly nourished. Lettuce should be thinned to four inches in the rows.

"I'M ONLY A LITTLE GIRL"

Falling Eyesight Responsible for an Old Man's Mistake—Rebuke Hardly Effective.

A certain group of youngsters in an exclusive West Side residential section had been very noisy throughout the forenoon.

The children were still doing their utmost to imitate a bedlam, when a very angry old man appeared at the door of a nearby apartment house. He was quite old, and it was evident that his eyesight was not the best, but he finally succeeded in picking out a youngster who was aiding very strenuously in the noise making.

The aged man walked over to the back to the apartment. When he reached the doorway he turned to the child and said:

"Don't you know it's against the law to make so much noise?"

"Yes, sir," was the meek reply.

"Well, don't you know that you'll be arrested and put in jail and then you can never be president of the United States?"

"Please, sir?" replied the child, "I don't care; I'm only a little girl."

IT IS CRIMINAL TO NEGLECT THE SKIN AND HAIR

Think of the suffering entailed by neglected skin troubles—mental because of disfigurement, physical because of pain. Think of the pleasure of a clear skin, soft, white hands, and good hair. These blessings, so essential to happiness and even success in life, are often only a matter of a little thoughtful care in the selection of effective remedial agents. Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston, will secure a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on skin and scalp treatment.

Slow Travel.

Down in Oklahoma they have a railroad called the Midland Valley, which is noted for its slow trains. It is told that a young man of Tulsa asked the hand of a daughter from her parents and was refused on the ground that the daughter was too young.

"My daughter is going to Pawhuska tomorrow for a visit," said the father, who is a traveling man, "and if she doesn't remain more than a day or two she will be old enough when she gets back."

"But she may be an old maid by that time," protested the young man.

The gentleman who wore evening clothes and the remnants of a jag at 9 o'clock in the morning was clinging to the footboard of a crowded surface car in Chicago. As the car rounded a sharp curve with a jerk the person in incongruous apparel fell quickly and heavily on the cobblestones. He was picked up by the strong hands of the conductor and about twenty passengers.

"Collision?" he asked in a dignified tone of voice.

"No," said the conductor.

"Off the track?" further questioned the victim of the accident.

"No," said the conductor.

"Well," concluded he of the jag, "if I had known that I wouldn't have got off."—Popular Magazine.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

This is the age of research and experiment, when all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientist for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made giant strides during the past century, and among the by-products of this progress are the cures in medicine which come from the study of the French Hospitals and that it is worthy the attention of those who suffer from kidney, liver, and stomach diseases, chronic weakness, ulcers, skin eruptions, piles, etc., we think there is no doubt. In fact it seems evident from the big stir created among specialists, that THERAPION is destined to cast into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. It is of course impossible to tell sufferers all we would like to tell them in this short article, but those who are interested and would like to know more about this remedy that has effected so many cures, will find it in the French Hospitals, London, and decide for themselves whether The New French Remedy, "THERAPION," is what they require and which they may have been seeking in vain during a life of untold misery, suffering, ill health and unhappiness.
